

PHLEBOTOMY TECHNICIAN

Certificate Program

Program Objective

The Phlebotomy Technician program prepares graduates to work as entry-level phlebotomists. Students receive training in standard medical procedures for specimen collection and handling, special collections, laboratory tests, and review for the certifying examination. Graduates may seek entry-level employment in physician's offices, clinics, laboratories, hospitals, group practices, specialty practices, health insurance offices and nursing homes.

Program Requirements

		Quarter
		Credit Hours
MA107	Human Anatomy	4
MA110	Medical Terminology	4
MA161	Phlebotomy Theory	4
MA261	Phlebotomy Clinic	4
MA263	Phlebotomy Review	2
Total Quarter Credit Hours Required for Graduation		18

The length of time required to complete this program is two terms or six months.